LOTTE CAVE.—Take notice that on Saturday, 25th day of October, 1910, between the hours of ten o'clock a. m. and six o'clock p. m., at the office of Frederick P. Russell, 117 north Fairfax street, in the city of Alexandria, Va., I shall proceed to take the testimony of Gilbert W. Cave and others to be read in my behalf in a certain suit in equity now pending in the Corporation Court of said city in which you are defendant, and I am complainant, and if the taking of the testimony be not begun or if begun be not completed on that day, then the taking of the same shall be continued from time to time and from place to place until the same shall have been completed.
GILBERT W. CAVE.
Affidavit having been made in this cause that the defendant, Lotte Cave, is not a resident of the state of Virginia. It is ordered that the foregoing notice be inserted in the Alexandria Gazette, a newspaper published in the City of Alexandria, Virginia, once a week for four successive weeks.

YOUTH CAPTURES ROBBER.
Walter Julius, a 17-year-old youth, not only prevented the robbery of the Bank of McClelland, Iowa, yesterday afternoon, but followed the would-be robber, shot and wounded him, then captured him, and delivered him to the town marshal.
A farmers' picnic had left the little town of 200 practically deserted, so that Julius was in the bank alone, the proprietor and clerks having joined the picnic. Shortly before 3 o'clock a man, since identified as Welford Kirby, of Oakland, Iowa, stepped to the window of the cashier's cage, in which Julius was standing, and thrusting the muzzle of a revolver into the boy's face, exclaimed: "Give me the money there on the counter and be quick about it."
Julius promptly ducked beneath the counter, and while doing so picked up an automatic revolver lying on a shelf. Baising his hand over the edge he fired seven shots in rapid succession, and two more from a second automatic revolver that was at hand.
When he ceased the fusillade the boy found that he was alone. But across the fields a man was running like a scared deer, and Julius recognized him as the robber. He sent another bullet after him, and the man fell. The bullet had struck his right arm. The boy walked his prisoner back to the town jail, where he turned him over to the authorities.

When the digestion is all right, the action of the bowels regular, there is a natural craving and relish for food. When this is lacking you may know that you need a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They strengthen the digestive organs, improve the appetite and regulate the bowels. Sold by W. F. Creighton and Richard Gibson.
HIGH PRICES CAUSE SUICIDE.
Driven desperate by the prevalent high prices, which since the arrival of a baby boy made her husband's sweatshop pittance barely enough to sustain life, Mrs. Tillie Kahlman hurled herself from the roof of a seven-story tenement in New York, yesterday and met instant death.
Neighbors recalled how when little David arrived five weeks ago the unfortunate woman prayed the child should be born dead. She already was the mother of a 15-months-old girl.
"We poor folks have no right to children," she said some time before the child was born. "What chance is there for them? They only make things worse for us."
"We have all we can do to feed ourselves, and every little mouth that comes into the world only makes it harder for those who are here already."
"My Harry"—meaning her husband—"works all day long, and sometimes far into the night and what has he at the end of the week? It's all he can do to provide for the three of us," and she broke into hysterical weeping.
It was Mrs. Kahlman's custom to rise at 6:30 to go out to purchase her husband's breakfast. Yesterday morning she fastened the couch coverlet to make it appear she was still asleep. Then she put on a light wrapper and ran upstairs to the roof.
Mrs. Greenstein, the janitress, hearing footsteps on the roof, sprang out of bed in time to see Mrs. Kahlman poised on the metallic cornice. The latter turned to wave her hand to her, then with a piercing shriek hurled herself headlong from the roof.

Ely's Cream Balm has been tried and not found wanting in thousands of homes all over the country. It has won a place in the family medicine chest among the reliable household remedies where it is kept at hand for use in treating colds in the head just as soon as some member of the household begins the preliminary sneezing or snuffling. It gives immediate relief and a day or two's treatment will put a stop to a cold which might, if not checked, become chronic and run into a bad case of catarrh.

BECAME SUDDENLY INSANE.
John G. Sims, suddenly gone mad, created a panic in the office of Dr. William G. Young, at 1315 N street northwest, Washington, yesterday afternoon, when flourishing a revolver, he attempted to kill himself, and threatened to shoot any one who should interfere. He was, however, disarmed and taken in custody by bystanders. Sims fought with all a man's strength, and when his efforts to harm his captors proved futile, he beat himself upon the head, until blood streamed from several wounds.

One of the mystifying phases of the case is a rumor, in circulation last night, that Sims, before he went to the office of the physician, had drawn $1,000 from his bank, but when taken to the station he had only $1.60 in his pockets. The police are trying to learn what became of the money. An envelope, addressed to his wife, in which was a $50 bill was found on the table in the physician's office after he had

A MISSISSIPPI ENTHUSIAST
Mrs. Lena Gresham, of Clinton, Miss., Has a Few Facts to Tell Our Readers About Cardui.

Clinton, Miss.—"Thanks to Cardui," writes Mrs. Lena Gresham, of this place, "I have been greatly relieved."
"I suffered for three years from female inflammation, and had taken medicine from four different physicians without much benefit."
"I have received more benefit from seven bottles of Cardui, than from all the physicians."
"Just try Cardui. That's all we ask. It speaks for itself. It has helped so many thousands, it must be able to help you."
"Trying Cardui won't hurt you. It is safe, harmless, gentle in action, and purely vegetable."
"If you are weak, tired, down and out, try Cardui."
"If you are sick, miserable, and suffer from womanly pains, like headache, backache, dragging feelings; pains in side, arms, legs, etc.—try Cardui."
"It is the medicine for all women. It is the tonic for you."

N. B.—Write to: Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions, and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper, on request.

Candidate Henry L. Stimson is not to attend the republican dinner tonight in New York, because if he goes he will have to make a speech.

Mr. Stimson said a word or two yesterday about his own career, notably those government fees of which there has been some discussion of late.
The sum of $45,000 was the gross, said Mr. Stimson, and that was a moderate amount considering the effort and time expended. "Much more would have been asked from a private client for the same work."
"One thing which no one has taken into account," said Mr. Stimson, "is that the $59,000 does not represent the net sum which came to me."
"I paid my assistants and personally received $25,143.36 in the time devoted to the sugar trials, and that includes a few outside fees from my private clients. For this amount I devoted just about all my time for a year and a half to three criminal cases, besides arguing the Morse appeal."

Stimson frankly stated that he did not propose to disavow his connection with United States Senator Elihu Root or his services as an attorney for corporations in the past.
